Access: Public

A small group of ex-slaves founded this church in July 1884. The land was donated by James Gibbons. A log house was originally built on the property to house the congregation. That structure was replaced by a frame church in 1889. That church was expanded and remodeled in 1916 and finally demolished in 1967. The present structure dates from 1968. Gibbons United Methodist Church serves a number of functions in this rural community. It houses a day care center and maintains most of the senior citizen programs.

Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

The frame church which was built in 1889 and remodeled in 1916 was a small, frame, cross-gable structure. It had a small tower with porch entrance. There was a tri-partite window in each gable, and a narrower one in the tower. This frame church was destroyed when the new brick church was constructed in 1968.

The social/educational building still stands near the corner of North Keys and Gibbons Church Roads. It is a one-story frame building, in an ell-shape, and <sup>has</sup> a gabled north facade. Entrance is through a door centered in the east gable end.

Prepare both a summary paragraph of significance and a general statement of history and support.

In 1887, James H. S. Gibbons, a prosperous white farmer and member of Immanuel Methodist Church at North Keys, deeded one acre of land near Brandywine to Nathaniel Scott, John Briscoe, Samuel Fleet, William Pinkney and John Green, as trustees of the Methodist Episcopal Church. These five Black men were members of Brooks Methodist Church near Nottingham but had been holding services in the Brandywine Colored School (#2) since 1884 because of the distance between their homes and Brooks Church. In 1889, they erected a small frame church and named it after Farmer Gibbons.

The church was remodeled in 1916 and a second cornerstone was laid. In the 1920's a small one-story frame building was erected at the corner of North Keys and Gibbons Church Road. It was used for community and social events, and educational purposes, and though vacant, it still stands.

By the 1960's, it was decided to replace the small frame church building which had housed the Gibbons congregation for nearly 80 years; a modern brick church was completed in 1968, and the older church was demolished.

Today, the Gibbons Church serves a large Black congregation, and maintains a busy Senior Citizen's program. The graveyard, which has stones from the turn of the century, is still in use.

Gibbons Methodist Church

14107 Gibbons Church Road, Brandywine, Md.

Priv/Occ/Relig/Site of Cemetery

There is a modern brick church on the site of the old Gibbons Church. The original church which it replaced was a small frame cross-gable structure with tri-partite window in each gable; it had a small tower with porch entrance. A one-story frame social/educational building stands near the northeast corner of the lot. Ell-shaped, with a gabled north facade, this building has an entrance centered in the east gable end.

In 1887, James H.S. Gibbons, a prosperous White farmer deeded one acre of his land near Brandywine to five Black trustees of the Methodist church. These five men were members of Brooks Methodist Church near Nottingham but had been worshipping in the Brandywine "colored" school because their homes were closer to Brandywine. In 1889, they erected a small frame church and named it in honor of farmer Gibbons. The church was remodeled in 1916, and in the 1920's another frame structure was erected for social and educational purposes. In the 1960's it was decided to replace the frame church; a modern brick church was completed in 1968, and the old church was destroyed. The educational building still stands, and the cemetery is still in use, both of them representing an important early Black religious site.
